AREA ACCESS

MARTINIQUE

Martinique is an overseas regions of France. The mix of French and Caribbean culture creates an alluring and unique vacation destination in which tourists get the best of both worlds: the warm weather, pristine beaches, and colorful attitude of the Caribbean as well as the posh and refined nature of France.

Martinique is located in the Lesser Antilles, surrounded by both the Atlantic Ocean and Caribbean Sea.

The island is home to rugged mountains, rivers, waterfalls, and forests. Martinique has a total area of 425 square miles, and is home to the still-active volcano, Mt. Pelee.

The people of Martinique are known to have a higher standard of living than many other Caribbean nations.

Martinique Aimé Césaire International Airport (FDF, formerly known as Lamentin International Airport) is the main airport of Martinique for surfers coming to the event. Immigration is courteous and efficient at this large, modern airport, which has a number of ATMs, money exchange bureaus and restaurants.

A non-direct option to reach Martinique is via St Lucia, which is an island only 18 miles away from Martinique. The airlines companies that service St Lucia are : Air Canada, Air Sunshine, American Airlines, British Airways, Condor, Delta Airlines, JetBlue Airways, AmeriJet international, Corporate Air, DHL Aviation...

From St Lucia you will then need to travel to Martinique by plane or boat.

Surfing in Martinique offers you the chance to indulge your passion against some of the most picturesque natural backdrops imaginable. Dawn and dusk are opportunities not to be missed whether you are riding your board or watching others whilst relaxing.

The surf spots in Martinique are predominantly to the north along the Atlantic Coast where as the Caribbean Coast generally lacks the swells. There are approximately 14 recommended spots.

The most well-known and frequented is Anse Bonneville (plage des surfeurs) on the Caravelle Peninsula. If you are lucky enough to be near Anse Couleuvre (northern tip of the Caribbean coast) at just the right moment it's possible to surf some of the best waves on the island : a strong, fast tubular right of up to 3 meters with shallow bed.

Those who seek maximum thrills are urged to try the long waves that form a point break at the entrance to the Basse Pointe port flanked by high cliffs. As you can see it's impossible to be bored if you come with your board in Martinique.

YOUR BOARDS

You don't know what to do with your boards after the contest ?

We can buy it, just contact the Nicolas' (organisers) or Jean-Luc, your surfer Rep.
